

Trades & Labour Recruitment

Coyle Trades and Labour Construction Division covers a wide but defined spectrum of areas.

In each office we have a consultant who specialises in solving a clients temporary and permanent requirements for one of the above areas.

Our success has been based on working closely with our clients, defining exactly what they require, and delivering a quality service 24 hours, seven days a week.

We have tried and tested compliance processes in place to ensure that all of our staff are eligible for work, and are fully qualified.

We believe in training and developing our workers to further their skills and increase their value to employers.
